DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This Flemish Bond brick church is accented by a stone belt course between the group and 1st stories, a stained glass rosette window, and a row of modillions below the roofline. Symmetrical Doric pilasters on the side facades divide the stained glass light lights, with lower hinged openings, formed by stone mullions. The front and rear project form the main building walls and carry both the primary and secondary entrances.

Five stone steps are enclosed by a front portico set in a central extension. The portico itself is composed of 2 columns, with exaggerated capitals and 2 pilasters, which carry a gabled hood with a three-quarter interior crown. The hood is mounted by a Calvary cross. A stained glass rose window fills the upper section, the projection, which also holds 2 narrow, rectangular windows, with 1/1 lights and stone sills, on either side of the portico. A cornerstone in the lower right facade bears the date "1922".

The 1st story end bays carry a single rectangular window with 3 vertical lights over 1 light, stone sills. This window treatment is repeated in the 2nd floor. Each grouping is slightly recessed from the wall, and brick panels adorn the inter-story space. A perimetric low stone water table at the entrance base marks the division between the ground and 1st stories of the side facades.

A perimetric cornice crowns the facade at a point even with the side roof lines. The entrance cornice is accented by a row of modillions. The gable is also adorned by a cornice with a Latin cross at the apex.

The west facade contains a gabled secondary entrance in each projecting end bay. Stone mullions divide the windows into rectangular lights. Brick pilasters, with interspersed modillions, separate the four tripartite stained glass 1st and 2nd story windows groupings with stone mullions and hinged lower lights.

A gabled bell tower and high chimney stack define the back facade.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

Built in 1922, this Roman Catholic Church was ~~the~~ first ecclesiastical structure in Ashburton. Excepting crosses which mount the portico and front gable, the building lacks most of the detailing which characterizes houses of worship.
